Final Preparations for Death Made by the Vatican and the Italian Government.

ROME, July 20, 5 a. m .- At this hour the Pope is still in a state of coma. When called by his attendants he makes a great effort to arouse himself, but he is soon again overcome. A suspicion has arisen that the change in his condition is due to blood poisoning as a result of derangement of the kidneys. A contributing element to the weakness of the Pope has been his inability to take nourishment. When an attempt is made to administer restoratives, although they are placed in his does not swallow The Vatican has asked prayers for the august head of the church at this supreme mo-

ROME, July 20, 3:30 a. m .- Now that the supreme last moment in the memorable life and reign of Pope Leo is expected almost hourly, the contrast between the quiet within and the excitement without the Vatican is most striking. In the vast palace there is a hushed calm of expectation, the only apparent wakeful souls being the Swiss guards. The doctors and attendants ness was pretty evenly divided, and all of the dying Pontoff speak in whispers and move noiselessly about, so that from the sick room no sound comes except the heavy breathing of the unconscious Pope or his occasional cries for Pio Centra and Dr Lapponi. His tone is one of fear, as though he felt himself abandoned. In reality sleep is very far from all eyes. No matter at what hour death comes the whole palace will spring into sudden life, as though touched by a magician's wand.

In the plazza of St. Peter's, on the contrary, all is movement, there being a regular encampment of journalists before the famous bronze doors, which are now closed in their faces, and behind which the regular tramp of the Swiss guards can be heard Many eyes are glued to the window in the Pope's chamber, overlooking the piazza, while the near-by cafes, especially those with telephones, are crowded. Bicycles ready for use are piled up outside them, and cabs are lingering about in the hope of catching a fare. This strange scene is the magnificent starlight while the two grand and celebrated foun-

The Osservatore Romano, the chief Vatican organ, has received orders to hold itself in readiness to issue almost at moment's notice a special edition. The only thing wanting to complete the paper is the hour of Pope Leo's death. The staffs of all the other papers are at their posts, ready to issue special editions at any hour.

IN A STATE OF COMA. The Pope lies in a state of coma, and there are doubts in the minds of his doctors whether he will ever completely emerge. His immediate dissolution seems only to be averted by the reliability of the action of his heart. His pulse, though weak, continues steady. Shortly before midnight Dr. Lapponi said:

"The Pope at the present moment is in a state of coma, which may be called a conditon preceding the last agony, the duration of which it is impossible to forecast, although everything leads to the belief that condition cannot last. To be more exact, he is still in a state of torpor and stupor, from which, however, he rouses occaionally when he hears sharp sounds, as, for instance, the insistent voice of one of familiars calling loudly to him. Left alone he relapses immediately into a condition of torpor. At intervals he murmurs in his sleep, continuing to have forebodings that he is being abandoned by his valet, Centra, and myself. These are the symptoms of incipient cerebral anemia and gen eral exhaustion. He can no longer turn in his bed without assistance and is being kept alive by artificial stimulants. During the last twenty-three hours he has had two injections of camphorated oil, three of caffeine and two hypodermics of salt water.

besides drinking stimulants." Mgr. Bislotti, master of the Pope's chamber, said earlier in the evening that the pulse of his Holiness had not yet shown any signs of becoming intermittent, so, despite his extreme weakness and coma, he believed the Pope would survive the night and possibly to-morrow. Both the Italian government and the authorities of the Vatican have made final preparations for the Pope's death. The government is rigidly censoring all telegrams and telephonic communication between Italy and the rest of the continent. At this our but few people remain at the Vatican.

RUNNERS INFESTED ILLINOIS ST. SCENTING OUT CUSTOMERS.

Forty Thousand Enjoyed a Beautiful Day in the City's Parks-Driving and Automobiling.

Fifteen thousand five hundred and seventy-eight Sunday excursionists passed through the gates of the Union Station yesterday, and all records for the season were broken. The immense crowd was handled remarkably well by the limited force of employes, who had their hands full in preventing accidents, seeing that excursionists got the right trains, and in attending to the thousand and one details which taxed their patience to the utmost.

Of the 15,578 6,080 were brought in by the Big Four, Pennsylvania, L. E. & W., Vandalia and C., H. & D. Excursions were run by these roads from Madison, Greencastle, Terre Haute, Union City, Elkhart, Champaign, Ill., Sandusky, O., Peoria, Michigan City, Fort Wayne, and two from Cincinnati. The same roads carried 9,498 people to points in this State, Ohio and Illinois. The busiroads fared well. Some of the trains were so crowded that passengers were hanging on to the steps of the cars.

CROWD HANDLED WELL. The busiest hours at the Union Station were from 10 o'clock in the morning until noon, when the trains were coming in, and from 5 o'clock until 7 in the evening, when they were going out. During those hours people passed through the gates and the depot building in a steady stream. No one who has not observed how the Union Station employes care for a crowd of this kind can realize the amount of care and downright hard work there is in it. Excursionists have a mania for getting on the wrong trains, for losing bundles-even babies-and, most irritating of all, for asking absolutely useless questions. So far as reported not a single accident, even of a minor nature, occurred, everybody caught his right train, and there were no mothers weeping for lost

As usual the ticket scalpers on Illinois the excursionists who came to the city used their round-trip tickets as a convenient way of saving money for a longer trip. With these, and some who come to make extended visits, the scalpers did a profitable business, purchasing return coupons for a few cents and selling them to regular travelers who were looking for bargains in transportation to Cincinnati, Terre Haute, Chicago and other points, for 50 cents or more. Runners for the scalpers' offices in-Illinois street, smelling out likely customers with keen noses. The railroads are determined to break up this illegitimate

CROWDS AT THE PARKS. The majority of the 6,000 people who came to Indianapolis on pleasure bent went to the city parks for a cool day. Fairview and Riverside were the most favored. The estimate of the crowd at each place is 15,000. At Fairview the Indianapolis Military Band played afternoon and evening. A special programme was played by the hand yesterday containing well-selected classical and popular pieces. Rag time was executed with vigor and vim, to the delight of the many who never grow tired of syncopated music. At Riverside Miller's City Rand gave the concerts. As usual the deer and the bears and the rest of the menagerie at Riverside drew thousands of animal lovers. The other amusements, the doubleeight railway and the laughing gallery, were well patronized. To these parks many brought lunch and supper, forming merry picnic parties under the big trees. Probably 40,000 people visited the parks resterday. The day was delightfully cool. not too cool to dress in summer attire and spend the day in the open air, but still cool enough to make life thoroughly enjoyable. At Spades Place the concert by Mayer's Military Band drew about 3,000 people. At Brookside about 4,000 people spent the day. Garfield Park was not so well patronized. Hardly a thousand people went to the beautiful South Side park

POST-MORTEM EXAMINATION THE DEPUTY CORONER.

He Thinks There May Be Evidence a Crime-Clothes Marked "M. R. W." -Poison Bottle Found.

The mysterious death of an unknown man, which from all the evidence savors of a crime and in every way bears the earmarks of foul play, is at the present time puzzling the police department of the city. Shortly after 7 o'clock yesterday morning Oscar Simms, a colored boy living at Twenty-fifth and Rural streets, was driving some cows to pasture at Brookside Park, and, hearing groans which seemed to come from the heavy bushes at the east end of the park, followed the sound through dense brush and weeds to a secluded spot in the woods, where he discovered the prostrate form of a man, alive, yet apparently in the throes of death, and seemingly suffering terrible agony. Simms, for the time, forgot the cows which were intrusted to his care and ran to the office of Dr. Egbert and told him of his find. The doctor went at once to relieve the suffering man, in the meantime calling the street did a thriving business. Many of City Dispensary ambulance and the bicycle

On arriving at the spot where the known man lay the doctor at once saw that he was beyond any human aid, and on the arrival of the ambulance turned him over to the care of Dr. Cunningham, of the City Dispensary, who took the dying man to the City Hospital.

DIED AT HOSPITAL.

The doctors at the hospital did everything in their power to save the life of the unknown, but in spite of their efforts he died within half on hour after his arrival there without regaining consciousness sufficiently to disclose his identity or the true cause

Bicyclemen Trimp and Lowe, who were the first of the police to arrive on the scene, failed to elicit any information from the suffering stranger, and say that he was in an unconscious condition when they first

A search of the vicinity where the man was found reevaled a bottle, which apparently had at one time contained tincture of opium, but the bottle was found several hundred feet away from the body, and it is not evident that the man threw it there after drinking its contents, nor is it probable that he intentionally drank the drug before entering the bushes where he was later found

Deputy Coroner Geis held a post-mortem examination of the body last night at the City Hospital, and found that the man died from a hemorrhage of the stomach and a large bruise on the body over the stomach appeared as evidence of a kick or blow which could not possibly have been inflicted by the man on himself. Dr. Geis said last night after the examination: "From the post-mortem examination which made it looks to me that there is very strong evidence of foul play, and I would not say that the man died by his own hand. I will examine the stomach to-morrow to find whether it contains any poison, and lieve it is becoming plain that Russia is will then be able to give more definitely my opinion as to whether the case was one tincture of opium, was bought at Stokes Brothers' drug store at 226 North Meridan street, but when seen last night they were unable to say to whom the drug was sold. A complete investigation will be made by the police and it is said that several clews have been secured which it is thought may clear up the mystery. Deputy Coroner Geis said last night that every effort would be made to ascertain the cause of the man's death and nothing would be left undone as far as the office of the coroner was concerned that would aid in revealing the criminal if it was found that a crime had been committed.

REIGN OF LAWLESSNESS IN NORTH WESTERN WYOMING.

Lives of Prominent Cattlemen in Danger-Call Made for Militia-Fight Probable.

RED LODGE, Mont., July 19 .- Jim Gorman, who killed his brother about a year ago and ran off with his brother's wife, and a man named Walters, who killed a widow named Hoover at the Hot Springs two years ago because she refused to marry him, were lynched at Basin, Wyo., early today. C. E. Pierce, a deputy sheriff, was killed during the attack on the jail. A state of lawlessness now prevails in which all law and order seems to have been abolished. From President Moffett, of the Montana and Wyoming Telephone Company, who is now making a tour of inspection of his company's lines, comes the news of the lynching and an appeal for help from Sheriff Fenton, of Big Horn prominent cattlemen near Thermopolis and

Last night a mob of about fifty unmasked men rode up the east bank of the Big Horn and compelled the ferryman to carry them across the river. They made no demonstration until they entered Basin, when five shots were fired as a warning. The mob proceeded at once to the county jail and all the leaders of the Danville crowd and fired a volley into the jail. Deputy Pierce and Special Deputy Meade were guarding the prisoners at the time. One bullet grazed Meade's shoulder and entered Pierce's heart. A still more alarming state of affairs is reported from the vicinity of Thermopolis. About six weeks ago, as a result of the range feud that has been so bitterly waged, a sheepman, Ben Minnick, was killed by cattlemen. The sheriff, it is asserted, has captured the murderers, who are all prominent cattlemen, and whose names have get his prisoners to Basin.

Crowd of Illinois Sports, Routed by Vermillion County Sheriff, Pulls Off the Mill in Warren County.

STOPPED ON CLAIM OF FOUL

ALL BETS ARE DECLARED OFF BY THE REFEREE.

Crowd of Over Two Hundred Present-Churchgoers Attend.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. PERRYSVILLE, Ind., July 19 .- Foiled by a courageous sheriff a crowd of 200 sports from Danville, Ill., that crossed the State line this afternoon to pull off a prize fight near this place, persisted in their purpose, moved over into Warren county, pitched the ring in the dense woods near the town of Foster and held the fight at 6 o'clock this evening. The ring was within a hundred yards of a schoolhouse, where religious services were being held late in the afternoon, and it was an interesting feature of the fistic contest that it proved sufficiently attractive to draw several spectators from the congregation gathered in the schoolhouse. Steve Crosby, of Louisville, and Joe Keller, of Cincinnati, were the principals, and they were to have gone fifteen rounds for a side bet of $200 and the "gate" receipts, but Crosby's seconds claimed a foul in the fifth round and refused to continue the fight. Accordingly the referee declared the contest a draw and all bets off. The men was exciting while it lasted, with neither man getting appreciably the better of it Both fighters were in prime condition, fit to go the fifteen rounds or to a finish.

The interesting side of the affair was the work of Sheriff James A. Swayme, of Vermillion county, who came down from Newport when he learned of the plans of the Danville sports, and, single-handed, put the crowd of 200 to rout. There is a place where a number of fights have been pulled off by Danville people in the past without any interference from local officials, and it was selected for the Crosby-Keller bout. The plans were well made and every effort had been made to keep them secret, but they leaked out and Sheriff Swayme received the information at his home in Newport barely in time to enable him to get here just as the crowd from Illinois arrived county, who has arrested a number of Sheriff Swayme informed the fighters and owed mother.
